E-JOURNAL
DECEMBER 2025

Congratulations

Message from THE PRESIDENT

Dear GAMA Global Members,

As we look toward 2026, I am thinking less about predictions and more about the kind of leaders our industry will need. The world around us is moving quickly. Regulation is tightening in some places. Technology is changing how we attract, serve, and keep clients. Talent is asking deeper questions about purpose and growth. In the middle of all that, leadership has to feel both steady and forward looking.

Across our global community, you are leading teams through real change. The tools evolve every year, yet the heart of the work looks familiar. We are still called to develop people, to build trust, and to create environments where others can do their best work. The leaders who stand out are the ones who can welcome what is new without losing touch with the principles that brought them into this profession in the first place.

This Special Awards Edition on “Leadership Trends for 2026” brings that to life. In these pages, you will find reflections on rapidly evolving markets, the long term growth of a firm built on nearly fifty years of commitment, and a call to practice limitless leadership in a disrupted world. Together, they offer a global view of what is changing and what must remain constant as we guide our advisors and our organizations into the future.

To our 2025 GAMA Global Awardees, I offer my heartfelt congratulations. Your achievements are both a celebration and a signal. You show us where leadership is headed and remind us that each of us has a role in shaping that future. Thank you for the way you continue to invest in your own growth and in the growth of those around you. Together, we can ensure that our profession is ready for whatever 2026 brings.

In leadership,

BONNIE GODSMAN
CEO, GAMA GLOBAL

LEADERSHIP TRENDS FOR 2026 AND BEYOND: LIMITLESS LEADERSHIP IN A DISRUPTED WORLD

By
Sussil Liyanage, CLF, LUTCF, RFC

INTRODUCTION: A NEW ERA OF LIMITLESS LEADERSHIP

As we move toward 2026, leadership in the financial services and insurance profession stands at the brink of profound transformation. The past decade has brought waves of disruption—pandemic shocks, digital acceleration, changing workforce expectations, and the growing social demand for purpose-driven organizations. The landscape ahead calls for a new kind of leader: one who is both visionary and human, strategic and empathetic, technologically adept yet ethically grounded.

The traditional model of leadership built on hierarchy, control, and compliance has reached its limits. The new world demands Limitless Leaders: those who multiply, not manage; who create other leaders, not followers; and who turn disruption into a catalyst for progress. They operate through what I call the 3M Model: Mindset, Motivation, and Method, blending personal mastery with strategic agility and moral integrity.

According to insights from IFIP Insurance 2026 and Beyond, insurers that succeed in the coming decade will be those who align digital transformation with social purpose and talent empowerment. In essence, tomorrow's leadership will be limitless, anchored in values yet unbounded by traditional constraints.

TREND 1: FROM MANAGEMENT TO MULTIPLICATION

The greatest shift in leadership over the next few years will be from management to multiplication. In an era where artificial intelligence and automation can handle transactions, leadership must focus on developing people. Future-ready financial and insurance organizations will become leadership factories, i.e., systems that empower every advisor, agent, and manager to grow into leaders themselves.

Traditional management relies on authority; multiplication relies on empowerment. As Insurance 2025 emphasizes, the future of financial institutions lies in collaboration, cross-industry ecosystems, and agile teams. The leaders who thrive will replace “command and control” with “coach and cultivate.”

The twin engines of growth, recruiting and development, remain timeless. But in the digital era, the context is different. Organizations must build structures that integrate learning platforms, mentoring systems, and data-driven development pipelines. Multiplication is now measurable, scalable, and cultural.

As I often remind leaders: “If you're not recruiting and developing, you're not working.”

TREND 2: THE 3M MODEL – MINDSET, MOTIVATION, AND METHOD

In a volatile, unpredictable world, leadership must evolve from personality-driven heroism to systemized effectiveness.

The 3M Model provides a holistic roadmap:

Mindset – Possibility Thinking

A leader's mindset defines what their team believes is possible. In an uncertain economy, optimism grounded in realism becomes a strategic asset. The right mindset transforms fear into focus, anxiety into action, and doubt into determination.

Limitless Leaders are optimistic realists: aware of risks yet anchored in opportunity.

Motivation – Purpose and Meaning

Compensation alone no longer inspires excellence. The next generation of professionals seeks mission, not just money. The Insurance 2025 report notes that over 80 percent of CEOs now embed customer satisfaction and social responsibility in corporate strategy. Leaders who communicate a clear why ignite deeper commitment and loyalty.

Method – Structure and System

Vision without systems is wishful thinking. The Limitless Leader builds processes for recruiting, training, coaching, and client engagement that turn inspiration into implementation. Insurance 2026 reinforces this need, urging organizations to adopt “digital ecosystems” and “outcome-oriented organizations” where processes enable performance.

These three dimensions—Mindset, Motivation, and Method—form a continuous cycle:

Inspiration → Ideation → Implementation → Integration.

When leadership becomes cyclical and systemic, it transforms from a position into a culture.

TREND 3: VALUE-BASED LEADERSHIP – THE RETURN OF TIMELESS PRINCIPLES

Amid rapid digitalization and technological change, values have reemerged as the ultimate leadership currency. In an increasingly transparent world, integrity and trust are not optional—they are existential. The Insurance 2025 report highlights a global “trust gap” in financial services, with only 54 percent of people trusting the industry. Rebuilding that trust requires leaders who live their values.

At the Institute of Finance and Insurance Professionals (IFIP), we anchor leadership development on four timeless principles:

Inspired – Integrity – Accountable – Skilled.

- Inspired: Leaders create vision that attracts top talent.
- Integrity: Ethics drive sustainable performance.
- Accountable: Responsibility for results and actions.
- Skilled: Continuous learning for professional mastery.

These principles are not slogans—they are standards. Research affirms that value-based organizations outperform purely profit-driven ones over time. Ethical leadership is not only morally right, it's a competitive advantage. As technology redefines transactions, only trust can sustain relationships.

TREND 4: HUMAN-CENTERED LEADERSHIP IN A DIGITAL WORLD

Artificial intelligence, automation, and data analytics have revolutionized the way we sell, serve, and manage. Yet, in this digital age, EQ will matter more than AI. Machines can calculate probabilities, but only human empathy can build trust.

Insurance 2026 emphasizes that successful insurers of the future will “go on the offensive with digital,” but equally “put a premium on execution and culture.” Limitless Leaders recognize that technology is an enabler, not a replacement. They balance efficiency with empathy, ensuring that every digital transformation remains human-centered.

Human-centered leaders:

- Prioritize relationships over transactions.
- Coach adaptability, resilience, and creativity.
- Empower people to use technology purposefully, not passively.

In the insurance and financial profession, the competitive advantage will belong to those who humanize the digital experience, turning data into understanding and analytics into action.

TREND 5: ESG, PURPOSE, AND TRUST – THE NEW METRICS OF LEADERSHIP

Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) priorities are no longer corporate side projects, they are central to leadership accountability. As Insurance 2026 and Beyond reveals, the most respected insurers are embedding ESG “into their DNA,” aligning investment, underwriting, and talent policies with social purpose.

Limitless Leaders extend the idea of value beyond profitability to prosperity with principles. They:

- Integrate ESG into business strategy and advisory frameworks.
- Lead with transparency and social impact.
- Measure performance through trust capital and community outcomes.

This alignment of profit with purpose defines the moral authority of the next generation of leaders. In a world where customers and employees expect authenticity, trust becomes the new measure of success.

TREND 6: THE FUTURE OF WORK – WINNING THE TALENT TRANSFORMATION

Leadership in 2026 will be judged not only by market share but by how organizations attract, engage, and elevate people. The Insurance 2025 report identifies “Winning the Race for Talent” as one of the industry’s defining challenges. Flexible work models, hybrid collaboration, and continuous reskilling will dominate the next decade.

Tomorrow’s leaders must redesign work for meaning and mobility. They will:

- Redefine roles and structures to align with agile, ecosystem-driven organizations.
- Invest in lifelong learning, making every professional digitally and emotionally intelligent.
- Foster cultures of belonging and inclusion, turning workplaces into growth spaces.

In a world competing for top talent, culture will be the ultimate differentiator. As one industry leader observed, “Winning the race for talent starts with having a purpose that is attractive.” The Limitless Leader builds that purpose daily, through trust, transparency, and transformation.

CONCLUSION: BUILDING A LIMITLESS FUTURE

The leaders who will define 2026 and beyond will not be those with the biggest titles, but those with the boldest transformations. They will:

- Recruit with vision, not desperation.
- Develop with systems, not slogans.
- Lead with heart, not hierarchy.

In Aristotle’s timeless framework, leadership blends Ethos (Character), Pathos (Compassion), and Logos (Competence). When leaders embody these three dimensions, they transcend limitations.

In an age of disruption, Limitless Leadership is not optional, it is essential. The future will belong to those who lead with vision, value, and vitality, creating organizations that inspire growth, multiply leaders, and build a better, more human world.

Congratulations

NEARLY HALF A CENTURY OF COMMITMENT AND GROWTH IN THE INSURANCE INDUSTRY

By
Martha González Monjaraz

In the dynamic world of insurance, where trust and the protection of assets play a fundamental role, a company's trajectory reflects its commitment to excellence and to the well-being of both individuals and businesses. JG Asociados stands as a clear example of this commitment, with a history spanning more than forty-five years.

THE LEGACY OF A VISIONARY LEADER

Founded on January 15, 1980, in Mazatlán, Sinaloa, by Lic. Jaime Antonio González González, JG Asociados was born with a clear objective: to protect people's assets and well-being through the sale of insurance. At that time, Mr. González was the regional manager for Sinaloa and Baja California at Comercial América (now AXA), where he recognized the enormous potential of the insurance sector and the opportunity to provide financial security in times of uncertainty.

Drawing from his industry experience, Mr. Jaime González decided to establish "González y Asociados," a company that quickly stood out for its commitment to quality and personalized service. With a clear vision and a strong foundation of trust, the firm grew and solidified its reputation, earning the respect of both clients and peers within the insurance field.

THE LEGACY CONTINUES WITH A NEW GENERATION

Today, the general manager of JG Asociados is Jaime's daughter, Martha "Tita" González Monjaraz, who exemplifies the same passion and dedication that characterized her father. Under her leadership, the company has continued to evolve, adapting to new market demands and expanding its impact in the insurance industry, while maintaining its original mission: to offer protection and security to individuals and their assets.

A MODEL OF GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT FOR FINANCIAL ADVISORS

JG Asociados has distinguished itself not only for its solid track record in insurance sales but also for its focus on developing new financial advisors with an entrepreneurial mindset. Over the years, the firm has worked tirelessly to train and empower new talent, providing them with the tools they need to succeed.

The agency stands out for its value proposition, which includes bonuses, conventions, conferences, awards, and incentive campaigns that not only motivate advisors but also recognize their achievements. This strategy is complemented by a comprehensive support system that helps agents enhance their skills on both a personal and professional level.

One of the keys to JG Asociados' success has been its constant engagement with expert consultants specializing in best practices within the insurance industry. Through collaboration with these professionals, the company has remained at the forefront and continues to provide its advisors with the best tools to face market challenges.

PERSONALIZED PLANNING FOR GUARANTEED SUCCESS

JG Asociados ensures that each insurance advisor has a personalized business plan aligned with the interests and goals of both the agent and the agency. Through detailed planning, the firm establishes clear and achievable objectives and provides ongoing management and follow-up to ensure every advisor stays on track toward success.

The sales methodology implemented by JG Asociados is another fundamental pillar of its business model, offering continuous feedback on each advisor's performance. This system allows for measurable evaluation of sales and income goals, enabling strategy adjustments based on actual results.

CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES IN THE INSURANCE SECTOR

One of the main challenges in the insurance industry is helping advisors develop their client base. JG Asociados approaches this challenge with a clear vision: to help agents reach more individuals and businesses, enabling them to offer the benefits of financial plans that provide economic support in difficult times. Whether it's protecting families or companies, the work of an insurance advisor is essential to ensuring financial stability during times of crisis.

THE VIETNAM STORY: LEADERSHIP TRENDS FOR 2026 IN VIETNAM'S LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY

By
Nguyen Duc Thang, RFC®

Life insurance in Vietnam has experienced significant growth and transformation over the past three decades, driven by an expanding middle class and increasing awareness of financial planning and risk protection. The life insurance market in Vietnam is diverse, with a range of products offered by both local and international insurers. However, the market has entered a period of recalibration since the media crisis in 2023. Recent years saw rapid expansion followed by moderation: total gross written premiums dipped and claims rose, while regulators tightened bancassurance rules to protect consumers and restore trust. Market-size forecasts show continued growth over the medium term, but with stronger emphasis on governance, digitalization and distribution transformation. These market shifts make 2026 a watershed for leadership — especially for agency leaders — who must evolve from transactional sales managers into professional, independent, long-term thinkers who embrace continuous learning and industry stewardship.

WHY LEADERSHIP MUST CHANGE

- Market corrections and tighter regulation: Gross written premiums (GWP) declined for several top insurers in 2023 and early 2024, while claims and payouts increased, pressuring margins and exposing distribution weaknesses. Regulatory responses (including recent circulars) restrict aggressive bancassurance practices and raise compliance burdens for product distribution.
- Channel and customer shifts: Digital adoption is accelerating, but digital insurance still represents a small share of premiums. Bancassurance remains large but faces headwinds; independent agents and omni-channel strategies are becoming more critical to reach underserved segments and restore consumer confidence.
- Structural challenges: Penetration remains low relative to regional peers, governance and talent shortages persist, and rural and agricultural protection gaps are significant—all of which require strategic leadership to address sustainability.

These structural and regulatory realities mean agency leaders can no longer rely on short-term recruitment and sales tactics. They must adopt a professional mindset aligned with risk management, customer centricity, compliance, and long-term value creation.

FOUR LEADERSHIP MINDSET SHIFTS FOR 2026

PROFESSIONALISM OVER CHARISMA

Emphasize technical knowledge (product design, medical/actuarial basics, underwriting implications), ethical selling, and documented performance metrics rather than personality-driven growth. Regulators and customers now demand transparency and suitability; professional advisors reduce cancellations and reputational risk.

INDEPENDENCE AND ENTREPRENEURIAL THINKING

Agency leaders should build professional skills, create independent value propositions (advice, planning services, customer care), and reduce over-reliance on company support. With bancassurance under scrutiny, agencies that can operate autonomously and plug into digital ecosystems will capture more sustainable market share.

LONG-TERM STEWARDSHIP AND STRATEGIC VISION

Shift KPIs from pure new-business volume to persistency, customer lifetime value, claims experience, and agent retention; plan across product cycles and regulatory scenarios. The market's volatility and tightening margins reward leaders who prioritize portfolio quality and durable customer relationships over single-quarter spikes in sales.

CONTINUOUS LEARNING AND PROFESSIONAL ACCREDITATION

Invest in structured learning programs, certifications, and external professional networks; and encourage agents to pursue recognized accreditations and ethical codes. Technical complexity, compliance demands, and customer expectations require upskilling; networks provide best-practice sharing and legitimacy.

PRACTICAL STEPS AGENCY LEADERS SHOULD TAKE IN 2026

Redesign performance metrics: Introduce balanced scorecards that weight persistency, compliance, claims ratios, and customer satisfaction alongside new business.

Formalize training curricula: Create tiered learning paths (onboarding, product mastery, advanced advising, compliance) and link progression to rewards.

Build partnerships with insurtechs: Use digital tools for lead generation, needs analysis, and service automation while preserving personalized advisory roles for agents.

Strengthen risk and governance functions: Implement sales monitoring, mystery shopping, complaint analytics, and stricter case acceptance rules to reduce cancellations and regulatory exposure.

Diversify distribution: Pilot direct, bancassurance-light, affinity, and digital channels so the agency can respond fast as rules or customer behaviors change.

Encourage external professional membership: Encourage agents and leaders to join global and regional associations (e.g., GAMA Global) to access curricula, ethics frameworks, and international benchmarks. For Vietnam, sponsoring membership or certification for agency leaders is a relatively low-cost, high-impact investment that signals seriousness to both customers and regulators.

LEADERSHIP CULTURE EXAMPLES AND QUICK CASE ACTIONS

- Culture: Move from “quota first” teams to “advisor first” squads. Celebrate persistency wins, claims-handling excellence, and ethical referrals alongside sales milestones.
- Quick actions (first ninety days): audit top five causes of policy lapses; launch a mandatory compliance refresher; pilot a digital needs-analysis tool with the top ten agents; enroll 15 percent of leadership in a recognized professional certificate.
- Medium term (six–eighteen months): tie compensation to persistency and NPS; roll out a leadership academy; formalize partnerships with 1–2 insurtechs; publicize membership in a professional association.

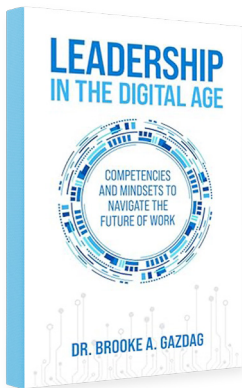

CONCLUSION – LEADERSHIP AS THE COMPETITIVE DIFFERENTIATOR IN 2026

Vietnam’s life insurance industry will grow in size, but the shape of success is changing: sustainable growth will favor firms and agencies led by professionals who combine technical competence, independent strategic thinking, long-term stewardship, and an appetite for continual learning. Agency leaders who embrace these shifts, and who use professional bodies like GAMA Global to accelerate capability and credibility, will not only weather regulatory and market correction, they will set the agenda for durable expansion and restored consumer trust in 2026 and beyond.
